It was an invasion of the onomy of the government to put such ocratic power in the hands of any 'net officer If the amendment were oted the Secretary of War might lify any provision of the bill

r Mitchell (Rep) of Oregon argued inst the amendment as pernicious and alculated to destroy the bill

r Pasco (Dem) of Florida also op- d the amendment on the ground that greed to there would be no expendi- at all under contracts, as the direct ropriations in the bill would absorb ten millions a year.

REACHED NO CONCLUSION.

Meeting of the Republican Senate Steering Committee.

Washington May 13—The Republican Senate Steering Committee had a meeting this evening to consider the order of business but was unable to come to any conclusion and adjourned to meet again Saturday morning At that time if a conclusion is reached a caucus of the Republicans of the Senate will be called to meet Monday morning

The several matters for which attention is being urged by Senators were taken up and discussed There appeared to be a feeling that it would be unwise to permit the calling up of the bills for the establishment of a uniform system of bankruptcy for the refunding of the debt of the Pacific railroads and like measures which will precipitate a prolonged debate The immigration bill now on the calendar appears to meet with general commendation and the committee believed it could be called up with reasonable probability of its passage. This will probably be provided for

The bill to repeal the free alcohol in the arts clause of the present tariff bill was also discussed for some time but no conclusion was reached There is a marked division of sentiment in the Republican ranks on this question but the indications are that the committee will report to the caucus in favor of giving this measure a day at court. Whether it can be passed is a question the committee does not presume to answer It is understood that the House will pass the repeal as an independent measure, and if that is done, the concurrence of the Senate will be urged All of these matters were permitted to stand open however and an effort will be made to dispose of them definitely next Saturday.

Washington, May 13—The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations this morning discussed Senator Morgan's joint resolution recognizing the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents but no action was taken and sentiments of the members were not disclosed by the discussion The meeting was not largely attended, so the subject was postponed until next Wednesday.

Nothing was said in the committee about asking the presence before it of the Diaz brothers, who were expelled from Cuba on a charge of aiding the insurrectionists A movement is on foot to have these gentlemen appear before the committee and relate the condition of affairs on the island as they know them but no steps have yet been taken looking to such a hearing

Terrell Called to Washington.

Washington, May 13—The action of the President in summoning Mr. Alexander W Terrell, United States minister to Turkey, from his Texas home to Washington, was not based on any new or serious developments in the Turkish situation His presence here is desired for purposes of consultation and the inference is given that the matter concerns an official appointment

PLATT'S VIEWS OF M'KINLEY.

An Unsafe Leader for the Republican Party.

TOO MUCH OF A BIMETALLIST.

Review of the Ohioan's Financial Record Does Not Show Settled Conviction—An Appeal for Action to Prevent His Nomination.

New York, May 13—Ex-Senator Thomas C Platt gave out a statement to-night, in which he says

"The McKinley managers have undertaken to break the force of my charge that his financial record shows that he is an unsafe leader for the Republican party at this time, by printing extracts from his recent speeches These extracts consist of a lot of general phrases about the necessity of having a currency 'as good as the best,' of our 'keeping all our dollars equal in value, and that sort of thing But the McKinley managers are away from the point. The point is not that McKinley has made no remarks and cast no votes that tend to the maintenance of good money, but that he has made all sorts of remarks and cast all sorts of votes, and, in a word that he has acted in every situation not from settled principles and convictions but in accordance with what he considered at the time to be popular

It is believed on all sides that the man who is placed in nomination at St Louis will be the next President of the United States The Republican delegates therefore have an incomparable opportunity. It is their supreme duty to nominate a man whose developed character and achieved record indicate that with his leadership Republican policies will secure the longest application They should find their candidate who will take office with the confidence of the country and not with its apprehension and distrust, who is known to be a free agent and not mortgaged up to his eyes with pledges that can never be performed and expectations that can never be satisfied who is safe and not erratic conservative and not impulsive; firm and not impressionable If these general principles are agreed to they render the selection of Maj McKinley impossible and I repeat that my opposition to him proceeds from the fact that I foresee the greatest danger to the Republican party when he has been elected and we have settled down to the work of restoring to this country the prosperity of which it has been robbed by the Democratic sectionalists and free traders."

An Appeal for Action.

Mr Platt then adds that it is high time for the business men of the country to wake up to what is going on in the effort to rush the nomination of McKinley through the Republican convention with a whoop and hurrah and says that the highest intelligence, the soundest business judgment, the widest experience of public affairs, and the firmest resolution that the Republican party can command are not too great an equipment for the leader on whose shoulders will rest the chief responsibility for the settlement under the next administration of the currency question.

In conclusion he says: "The Republican party is not in favor as Mr McKinley says he is, of the double standard, it does not want, as he says he does, to give it 'equal credit and honor with gold.' It is without disguise a gold standard party. "I submit to the business men of this country, whose sentiments can always control a nominating convention that they would better do something between now and the 16th of June on other subjects than the silly twaddle of newspapers about 'bosses and boss rule'"

AT PUEBLO.

Probabilities that Teller Will Be Unanimously Endorsed.

Pueblo, May 13 (Special to the Gazette)—Republicans of the Second Colorado district will tomorrow morning enthusiastically commend Senator Teller request him to head the delegation to St. Louis instruct the district delegates to follow his leadership at all times and they will be asked to endorse, but not by name, Colorado's entire Republican Congressional delegation. Free silver and protection will be declared the cardinal principles of Republican faith. Resolutions covering these points were completed by the committee at midnight and will be presented at 10 a m tomorrow, to which time the convention adjourned at 7 o clock this evening after completing a permanent organization.

Hon Hosea Townsend of Silver Cliff was unanimously chosen temporary presiding officer and then made permanent chairman. After a recess the convention at 5 20 re-convened and received the report of the committee on credentials It then got into quite a melee over the appointment of the resolutions committee El Paso wanted it to consist of but seven or nine members The smaller counties wanted each of the forty-three delegations represented, and carried the day El Paso's action in this regard aroused the animosity of the smaller delegations and it is believed will prevent Colorado Springs from getting one of the two district delegates Charles Breckenstein of Conejos is practically certain to be one and Pueblo county is expected to get the other It will then be either J H Mechem or C J, Hart A combination has been formed between Breckenstein and Hart with the entire McIntire machine headed by Otto Mears, working for it.

Delegates to the state convention which meets tomorrow at 2 p m , are rapidly arriving It looks at this time as if Senator Teller will be unanimously endorsed by acclamation, and will be named to head the delegation No one knows who will fill the remaining three places, as all are at sea Resolutions similar to those to be adopted by the congressional convention will be passed, neither containing any mention of a bolt, but requiring adherence to Teller's leadership. His recent utterances are not, however, regarded by leaders here as advocating a bolt.

STEVENSON AND VIVIAN

Selected as Delegates to St. Louis by the First Congressional District.

Denver, May 13.—A. M. Stevenson and John F Vivian were unanimously selected as delegates to the St. Louis convention by the delegates of the First Congressional district, which met here to-day. James Cowie and C. B. Timberlake were named as alternates

The proceedings were routine, no contests being presented from Arapahoe county and no resolutions were adopted Both delegates pledged themselves to work harmoniously with Senator Teller, but Stevenson announced that he would oppose any movement seeking to censure Senator Wolcott for his opinions Earl B Coe declined to go as alternate, because he believed the national convention had already been pledged for the gold standard.

As Viewed in Denver.

Denver, May 13 It is understood that an effort will be made in the Republican State convention in Pueblo to-morrow to unite the outside delegations against Arapahoe county, with its factional fight and control the convention without Denver politicians The country forces insist upon a vote of censure being passed upon Wolcott The leaders from Denver object to this being done, and the Colorado Springs delegation will probably unite with Denver delegates in this matter.

WASHINGTON STATE.

Republican Convention Ready to Meet at Everett

Everett Wash , May 13—The Republican State convention will meet in this city to-morrow John S McMillan of Roche Harbor appears to be in the lead for chairman of the convention, and his selection will mean a victory for the sound money men, his financial views is reported, being in entire accord with that element of the party in this State There is a disposition on the part of the so-called gold-bugs not to touch upon the money question in the State platform but unquestionably a fight will be forced by the silver men upon this very issue

Nothing relative to the convention seems so certain as this result for the favorites of the white metal are on the aggressive and claim they will be able to pass a resolution expressive of their sentiments However the indications are not favorable to silver in the convention

IOWA PROHIBITIONISTS.

Largest State Convention for Many Years.

Des Moines, Ia , May 13.—Iowa Prohibitionists held their State convention here to-day with 300 delegates attending, making the largest convention they have held in years J. A. Hervey of Correy was temporary chairman. The permanent officers were, Chairman, W. K Brown of Storey county, secretary, J G Van Ness of Linn, assistant [illegible] Fleming of Page. The convention nominated delegates to the national convention in Pittsburg, a State ticket and named a new central committee. The delegates at large are as follows

There was a long contest over the platform The resolutions committee presented the platform of last year, which contained declarations on a large number of subjects F. F. Mace of Polk county offered as a substitute a platform of one plank, making prohibition the only issue. This caused the contest, but the committee was overwhelmingly sustained The platform as adopted declares against the liquor traffic and for prohibition, for woman suffrage free coinage of both gold and silver at 16 to 1; for the initiative and referendum, for revision of the State revenue laws

The state ticket was nominated at the evening session as follows Secretary of State, Wm G Wright, of Storey county Auditor of State, J W Worders, of Webster county; Treasurer of State, E J. Bye, of Cedar county Supreme Judge, Samuel Holmes of [illegible] county; Railroad Commissioner, Wm S. Piele, of Lyon county, Attorney General, F. M. Ford, of Woodbury county.

Will be Conservative.

Cheyenne, Wyo, May 13.—The Republican State convention for Wyoming, which will be held to morrow, will elect a McKinley delegation to St. Louis, 95 out of the 102 delegates composing the convention, having been instructed for the Ohio man. Very conservative action upon the financial question will be taken by the convention, which will probably be content with instructing its St Louis delegates to work for the recognition of silver in the national platform. The convention will select Willis Vandevanter of this city as national committeeman for Wyoming to succeed ex Senator Carey.

Iowa's Silver Strength.

Ottumwa, Ia, May 13. Official returns to Secretary Walsh show that 67 county conventions in Iowa have selected and instructed 12 more than enough silver delegates to control the convention at Dubuque. A majority is 474, and to-day's conventions swelled the silver list to 486, with gold figures at 177 The same counties last year gave 458 for gold and 294 for silver.

Blessings for Both.

Brutally Murdered.

Yreka, Cal May 13.—Mrs. Henry Schwatka, her little daughter Irene, and a Chinese servant were brutally murdered at their home on the Prather ranch in Butte Creek valley this morning Two tramps who discovered the crime are being held by the authorities pending an investigation. It is supposed by many that the Chinaman first shot Mrs. Schwatka and her daughter and then comitted suicide, but this belief is not shared by the husband of the murdered woman

The bereaved husband is a brother of the late Lieut. Schwatka, the well known Arctic explorer, and is one of the most prominent and highly respected men in the county, being foreman of the vast Prather ranch. The community is greatly aroused by the crime, and should the guilty parties be discovered a repetition of the lynching of last spring is certain to follow.

A. P. A. COUNCIL IN SESSION.

Every Indication of Repudiation of the Anti-McKinley Decision.

MUCH FEELING ON THE MATTER.

Executive Committee Still Maintain Their Position—President Traynor's Address—Contest for the Presidency of the Order.

Washington May 13.—Every indication points to an absolute repudiation by the supreme council of the A P A now in session in this city, of the action taken by the executive committee of the advisory board against McKinley's candidacy There has been much feeling expressed over the matter, and the executive committee has been severely criticised But the members of that body have not given any indication of a backdown, and meet the criticism with intimations that those composing the supreme council are endeavoring to get in line with his friends since McKinley has shown such strength

The trouble in the organization has been intensified by the action of the executive committee of the advisory board this evening in presenting to the board a report adhering to its anti-McKinley decision The meeting of the board was the most important event of the day A member of the executive committee tonight said the report which the executive committee presented to the advisory board is in accord with the statement made public at the time McKinley was blacklisted He also said that the action of the committee was based on affidavits made by prominent [illegible]

It is likely that the advisory board will censure the executive committee This will take the question of McKinley's repudiation out of the hands of the supreme council and will allow the advisory board to make another report to the convention. There is no doubt however, that the question of McKinley's candidacy will be discussed by the supreme body, and as stated the attack on McKinley will be discarded But before getting down to the main question the convention will have to consider a motion which will be made to morrow referring the subject of the executive committee's action and position of the A P A toward McKinley to a special committee for investigation. This motion will provide that the special committee shall report on all candidates for Presidential honors.

Traynor's Address.

The most important matter before the convention of the supreme council to-day was the reading of the annual message of Supreme President Traynor It took E H. Munbar of Boston the supreme secretary of state an hour and three-quarters to deliver it Most of the message deals with the internal business affairs of the order, such as the relations of local and superior councils and the authority of one over the other. The interesting part was that concerning the political situation. It was generally supposed among the delegates that the message would censure the executive committee of the advisory board for its attack on McKinley, It is said to-night that the censure was not given Supreme President Traynor appointed G W Van Fossen of Washington State, J Colin Moore of Alabama, J J Rhodes of Vermont, E. Dorille of Ohio and C E Sapp of Kentucky as a committee to consider and report on the message

Other reports were also read. That of Supreme Secretary Beatty said that 853 charters for new councils had been issued during the last year.

A resolution barring from the convention members of the A. P. A. who are not delegates to the supreme council caused a long discussion at to-day's session. The claim was made by its opponents that the secret proceedings sanctioned by the order savored too much of the star chamber to be American This matter was not decided and will be given further consideration

A lively canvass is being conducted for the supreme presidency Dr Ford, a prominent member who went back to his home in New York; Judge, Bowers of Iowa and E H Dunbar of Boston are considered the leading candidates State President Echols of Georgia is also spoken of for the office He is a Democrat, and some of the members think his selection would dispose of possible embarrassment arising from the election of some men who may have expressed themselves as for or against McKinley

The various committee were appointed by Supreme President Traynor to-night.

POLITICIANS WERE FOOLED.

Their Mistaken Judgment of Public Opinion.

THE PEOPLE AND THEIR WILL.

This Year the Conditions Were all Against the Politicians—Source of the McKinley Strength—A Popular Phrase.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—[Special.]—Now that the preliminary part of the Republican presidential campaign is practically over and the nomination of McKinley is conceded by the very men who have been trying their best to defeat him, it is pertinent to remark that the professional politician is a very poor judge of public opinion. That the Republican people of the United States had long ago determined to have for their presidential candidate this year the man whose name stood for protection, and who in himself embodied that idea, was apparent to every man who carefully studied the situation. Only the professional politicians were fooled, only the men who make politics their business, and who are therefore supposed to be smarter than the rest of us in estimating what is likely to happen. I know senators and congressmen who until within the last ten days have been as firmly convinced that McKinley could not win at St. Louis as they were of their existence. All the facts and all the indications, when pointed out to them, made no impression whatever.

Will Not Be Manipulated.

The trouble with these people who are in politics as a business is that they place too much faith in the power of manipulation. That being their trade and being accustomed to carry their own points in wards, counties and districts by outwitting the opposition and playing sharper tricks than the people feel to dictation at the hands of a coterie. The managers of the McKinley campaign are, some of them, bosses, too, but they were lucky enough not to have acquired as much reputation as the other fellows, and therefore they were not objected to so strenuously. A boss is generally odious only when he is on the other side.

The effect will surely be greater liberty of thought and action among the masses of the party, and probably in both parties. In a system of government like ours this is a good thing, for if the people cannot be trusted to have their own way, to make whom they please president and to institute their own policies, what are we coming to?

Something of the same sort of process is now going on within the Democratic party. It is claimed that the administration is trying to control the Chicago convention and that the officeholders are overriding the masses of the people. President Cleveland is charged by his enemies with inconsistency, in that, while in the past he has declined to allow officeholders to interfere in political matters, he is now insisting that his officeholders help control the coming national convention against free silver. The charge has not as yet been supported by satisfactory proof, but if it shall be, the effect will probably be disastrous to the administration side of the case.

The Voice of the People.

A well known and very shrewd senator, Mr. McMillan of Michigan, told me some time ago that he had taken pains to sound public sentiment in his state as to the presidency and various other matters and had discovered that the people are filled with strong convictions this year as to men and policies, and that they are in an ugly mood about it. They will not brook interference with their plans and woe be to the man who attempts to stop them. It has occurred to me that this remark, based on a careful investigation through the senator's native friends in his state, would be taken as a characterization of the mood the people are in everywhere.

One thing that helped McKinley very much in his campaign was catch phrases. The phrase, "advance agent of prosperity," as applied to the Napoleon of protection, "caught on," as the saying is, in every part of the country. It was used in county and district conventions, in state conventions, in speeches and literature, and about the time it will figure largely at St. Louis. The origin of this phrase affords a curious chapter of politics. It was invented by a woman congressman who is a delegate to St. Louis instructed to vote for another candidate. But he has an apt way of using rhetorical phrases to illustrate his ideas, and one day he said McKinley was regarded by the people as the "advance agent of prosperity." "Wherever the posters announce the name McKinley," added the congressman, "the people think the prosperity circus is coming." This congressman had little idea that his words would be taken up and be used to promote the cause of a candidate in whom he was not interested, but I suppose he would not object to having his identity disclosed in case McKinley becomes president. WALTER WELLMAN.

Pickled Tea.

The Kew Bulletin contains two interesting reports on the cultivation and preparation of the so-called pickled or lapp tea of Burmah, one from the northern Shan states, the other from the upper Chindwin. The plant yielding this tea is the ordinary Assam tea plant. The young and tender leaves are boiled in large pan-row necked pots, and are then poured into square pits dug in the ground about six feet deep, the sides and bottom being lined with walls of plantain leaves. The pit being filled with boiled tea and the juice from the pots plantain leaves are placed on top and earth piled above these, stones and other heavy weights being placed on top. The pits are opened after some months. The tea is sold in a dry state and is prepared by boiling in an earthen kettle, salt being added when it is drank. In lower Burma, however, it is largely consumed in the solid form, the leaves being soaked in oil, a little garlic or dried fish being added, and in this form it is regarded as a great dainty. At all family festivals it plays an important part, and no ceremony is complete without it. The profits on the trade seem to be enormous. Tea bought at the gardens at from 15 to 25 rupees for 560 pounds is sold in Mandalay at from 60 to 140 rupees. London Times.

THE TELESCOPE.

Imperfections That Are Found In the Instruments Now in Use.

The best possible two lens objective, made from such materials as are at present obtainable in disks of any considerable size, fine chromatic is not behaving the light rays of different color to any single focus. Its "achromatism" is far from absolute. In the case of this 40 inch lens the greenish yellow rays come together at a point nearly six inches nearer to the lens than do the violet, so that the image of a bright star is surrounded by a strong purple halo which is usually pronounced "perfectly lovely" by a female tyro. Such is an abomination to the astronomer. It is particularly annoying in spectroscopic or photographic work, and where such work is specially in hand the fact that the reflector is entirely free from it, treating rays of every color impartially in the matter of focus, goes far to condone its peculiar weaknesses.

This imperfection of the ordinary object glass is in no respect the fault of the optician, but lies in the material itself. Experiments, subsidized by the German government, have been going on at Jena during the last dozen years for the purpose of remedying the evil, with special reference, however, to the improvement of the microscope. In that complete success has been reached, and there is much reason to hope that before very long it may become possible to obtain varieties of glass which in combination will give satisfactory achromatism and in disks of sufficient size to permit the construction of large telescopic object glasses as perfect in their way as the new "apochromatic" microscopic objectives are in theirs. It will be a step almost as important as was Dollond's invention of the present achromatic lens. Thus far, however, no great success has been attained with telescopes of any considerable magnitude, though an English firm is now offering to make three lens objectives up to 20 inches in diameter which are advertised as practically perfect in their achromatism. A six inch lens of this construction has been very favorably reported on by Dr. Roberts, and it is perhaps not impossible that a new era of telescope making may open with the new century. North American Review.

Close Shooting.

An Englishman who lived many years in Africa says that it is now several years since he ventured to take one of the most daring shots that ever was hazarded. His wife was sitting in the house near the open door, the children were playing about her, and he was without, not far away, busy with a wagon.

Suddenly, he says, though it was midday, an enormous lion appeared at a short distance slowly advancing and laid himself quietly down in the shade upon the very threshold of the door.

My wife, frozen with fear, remained motionless in her place. The children took refuge in her lap and the cry they uttered attracting my attention I hastened toward the door. My astonishment and horror may be imagined when I found the entrance barred in such a manner.

The lion had not seen me, and I glided gently, scarcely knowing what I meant to do, to the side of the house and to the window of my chamber, in which I knew my loaded gun was standing.

By a happy chance I had set it in a corner close by the window, so that I could reach it from the outside, and, still more fortunately, the door of the room was open, so that I could see the whole danger of the scene.

There was no time to think, for the lion was beginning to move, perhaps with the intention of making a spring. I called softly to the mother not to be afraid and then fired. The ball passed directly over my boy's head and lodged in the forehead of the lion immediately above his eyes and stretched him on the ground.

There was an instant of fearful suspense. Then I fired again, but the second bullet was thrown away, for his majesty never stirred after the first shot, and I leaped over his prostrate body to clasp my wife and children in my arms.—Youth's Companion.

CHARM OF COLOR IN AFRICA.

A Warmth and Richness of Tone One Can Find Nowhere Else.

Though I may admit that South Africa, taken as a whole, offers far less to attract the lover of natural beauty than does southern or western Europe or the Pacific states of North America, there are two kinds of charm which it possesses in a high degree. One is that of color. Monotonous as the landscapes often are, there is a warmth and richness of tone about them which fills and delights the eye. One sees comparatively little of that pale gray limestone which so often gives a hard and chilling aspect to the scenery of the lower ridges of the Alps and of large parts of the coasts of the Mediterranean. In Africa even the hard granite has a deeper tone than these limestones, and it is frequently covered by red and yellow lichens of wonderful beauty.

The dark basalts and porphyries which occur in so many places, the rich red tint which the surface of the sandstone rocks so often takes under the scorching sun, give great depth of tone to the landscape, and, though the flood of midday sunshine is almost overpowering, the lights of morning and evening touching the mountains with every shade of rose and crimson and violet, are indescribably beautiful. It is in these morning and evening hours that the charm of the pure, dry air is specially felt. Mountains 50 or 60 miles away stand out clearly enough to enable all the wealth of their color and all the delicacy of their outlines to be perceived, and the eye realizes, by the exquisitely fine change of color tinge between the nearer and the more distant ranges, the immensity and the harmony of the landscape.

Europeans may think that the continuous profusion of sunlight during most of the year may become wearisome. I was not long enough in the country to find it so, and I notice that those who have lived for a few years in South Africa declare they prefer that continuous profusion to the murky skies of Britain or Holland or north Germany. But even if the fine weather which prevails for eight months in the year be somewhat monotonous, there is compensation in the extraordinary brilliancy of the atmospheric effects throughout the rainy season and especially in its first weeks.

During nine days which I spent in the Transvaal at that season, when several thunderstorms occurred almost every day, the combinations of sunshine, lightning and cloud, and the symphonies if the expression may be permitted—of light and shade and color which their changeful play produced in the sky and on the earth, were more various and more wonderful than a whole year would furnish forth for enjoyment in most parts of Europe.

A GIANT RACE.

How Three Stalwart Americans Created a Mild Sensation In England.

The friends of Dr. McVickar never tire of telling an adventure the good doctor had in the spring of 1885, when he went to Europe with the late Dr. Phillips Brooks and Mr. Robinson, the builder of Boston's Trinity church. Mr. Robinson stands 6 feet 2 inches in his stockings. Dr. McVickar measures 6 feet 4 inches, and Dr. Brooks exceeded 6 feet in height. While at Leeds they went to hear a lecturer address the workingmen on "America and Americans." The lecturer stated that Americans were, as a rule, very short in stature and seldom, if ever, rose to the height of 5 feet 10 inches. In fact, they were a race of pigmies. He did not know to what cause to attribute that fact, but he wished that he could present examples. Dr. Brooks rose to his feet and stretched his immense frame to the utmost, as he said:

"I am an American. I do not exceed the average American in stature or in weight and I sincerely hope if there is any other representative of my country present he will vouch for the truthfulness of my remarks."

In a moment Mr. Robinson arose and said in a stentorian voice:

"I am an American and am 6 feet 2 inches tall and am just below the average height of my countrymen. If there be any other American here, I hope he will corroborate me."

By this time the house was in a jolly humor. Waiting until the excitement could abate in some degree and the lecturer regain control of his nerves, Dr. McVickar arose, drew his form to its full height and exclaimed:

"I am an Amer—"

But he got no further, for the audience was in convulsions.—Philadelphia Record.

Mr. White's Reception.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says that when ex-Congressman White was in Washington he and his wife decided to give a reception and sent out invitations reading, "Mr. and Mrs. White request the pleasure of your company," etc. It happened that Associate Justice White of Louisiana and Senator White of California were prominent in the society of the capital, and there was nothing in the invitations to indicate which of the three Whites sent them out. They were sent out broadcast. Every one in the "official circles" of Washington society was included. The result was that everybody went to the reception. The east, the west and the south were fully represented. When the guests arrived, some thought they were calling on the associate justice, others thought they were the guests of the California senator, and a comparatively small portion were aware that they were attending the reception of Congressman White of Cleveland. It was a crush. But everybody was well pleased with the results of the general misapprehension that prevailed. They were welcomed royally, and when it was all over and Mr. White was laughing over the affair he remarked, "Well, I wanted a crowd and I had one."

Over Thirty Years Without Sickness.

MR. H. WEINSTEIN, a well-known, enterprising citizen of Byron, Ill., writes: "Before I paid much attention to regulating the bowels, I hardly knew a well day; but since I learned the evil results of constipation, and the efficacy of

IRVING HOWBERT,
Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Colorado.
W. D. TODD, Secretary.
Denver, Colo., March 28, 1896.

TO-DAY'S CONVENTION.

To-day's convention in Pueblo will endorse the position taken by Senator Teller, and will choose delegates to St. Louis who will probably bolt as soon as the platform and candidates are determined by that convention. The failure of the Arapahoe convention to endorse the position taken by Senator Wolcott and its approval of Senator Teller removed whatever chance existed of holding the Republican party of this State in line with that of the nation.

The immediate effect of this action will be to withdraw Colorado from active participation in the national campaign. For whatever candidate the four electoral votes of this State are cast, whether a free-silver Democrat, a Populist or a new party man of whatever name, they will be thrown away in a hopeless minority. We doubt not that there are enough loyal Republicans left in Colorado to secure the nomination of an electoral ticket pledged to the Republican nominee for President, but there is no chance of success for such a ticket, and the Silver electoral ticket will undoubtedly win in the State.

A further effect will be to deprive the Silver Republicans of their influence with the coming administration. It is practically certain that McKinley will be the next President of the United States and that the Republican party will be in control of both Houses of Congress. In withdrawing from the party at this particular time therefore the Silver men have deprived themselves of all opportunity of being heard in the councils of the party in power or of assisting to shape its policy. We cannot doubt that the attitude of the Republican leaders will be different towards a band of unreasonable seceders from what it would be towards loyal partisans who had a right to be heard in the party councils.

However, now that the thing is determined there is little use in pointing out its folly. We wish that the cause of silver may gain all that its friends are hoping for on account of this bold and uncompromising endorsement of Mr. Teller's principle of silver or nothing. We trust that the withdrawal of the Republican party of Colorado from active participation in the Presidential campaign of 1896 may result in the concentration of party effort in the State campaign, and the shutting out of any possibility of return to power of the Populist administration which brought us so near ruin four years ago. And we hope that the bolting Republicans may learn by experience the folly of their course, that they may see that the only hope for silver is in and through the Republican party, and that a small minority of the people of this country cannot force their opinion upon the majority by threats or even by party secession.

AN EXPERT LOBBYIST.

C. P. Huntington, whom the caricaturists of the Pacific coast usually represent as an octopus or a fox, came very near getting his deep water harbor at Santa Monica. The city of Los Angeles and the country tributary to it need an improved harbor. The rival propositions are for the improvement of San Pedro and for the improvement of Santa Monica. The board of trade and most of the leading business men favor San Pedro, as do also the reports of the government commissioners and the California delegation in Congress. But the Southern Pacific has made its investments at Santa Monica, and throws all its influence in favor of that harbor.

Mr. Huntington has been in Washington a good deal the past winter, ostensibly being hauled over the coals by the committee on Pacific railroads, Senator Morgan taking the place of chief inquisitor. The president of the Southern Pacific showed his usual agility as a witness, and apparently did not spend all his time in his efforts to defend his past acts. Between the rounds with Senator Morgan the old gentleman seems to have found time to talk with the committee on rivers and harbors, and has almost succeeded in getting one of his pet schemes through the Senate.

He has been in Washington before, and when there wrote confidentially about his lobbying to friends and co-workers in California. Subsequently these "Colton letters" were all made public in the course of a law-suit and they are classics as sources of information on the subject of lobbying. Bryce refers to them, numerous students of political science have quoted from them, and before nearly every election the California papers opposed to the railroads republish choice extracts from them. Probably by this time Mr. Huntington is too old to have confidential correspondents, but if not he has doubtless written some interesting letters during this session of Congress.

The Denver News, with apparent seriousness, proposes that the Republican State convention should elect delegates to the Democratic gathering at Chicago. It is not likely even under present circumstances that this advice will be followed. Indeed, in endorsing the silver or nothing policy of Senator Teller, the Colorado Republicans have done all for the Democracy that anyone ought to ask of them.

Nebraska has certainly been playing in hard luck the last few years. Those that think mining a hazardous business need not resort to farming in that State as a safe alternative. After drouths that nearly scorched the life out of her and made her population shrivel individually and collectively, she is this year having her rains come accompanied by cyclones. Lincoln was touched, and Omaha barely escaped, as will be found recorded in yesterday's dispatches.

According to the dispatches Germany is still bent on feeding England and the world cheap sugar at the expense of the German nation. Protection is a good thing when an industry is benefited that is incapable of development, but it begins to look as though the German sugar industry was never likely to thrive, and a bounty on this exported article seems to benefit the foreigner more than anybody else.

It is suggested that the headquarters of the Salvation Army may be moved westward from New York. This does not look like the result of any haunting fear on the part of the general that the army will become too fully Americanized. It was long ago observed that "England extends to the Alleghanies; the United States begins in Ohio."

New Zealand is talking about quarantining against tuberculosis. We are sorry for the country if it needs to do that, as in any respectable climate, and with a few precautions which our health boards are learning to recommend, there is no more need of quarantining against tuberculosis than against old age.

Some people do not seem to understand that a man can believe in bimetallism and be willing to fight for it hard and long, and yet that he may not be willing to pawn his belief in protection or any other principle he may happen to have on his person in order to make a show of loyalty.

General Weyler says he will not resign, even if the Competitor's men are not executed. It appears that General Weyler does not know the way out when he sees it.

A Populist Argument.

It looks as if an alliance of the delegates from Arapahoe, El Paso and Pueblo counties will control the State convention and commit Colorado Republicans to the support of the St. Louis nominee on a gold platform. If every one of these traitors to silver was thrown headlong into the canons of the Colorado the State would prosper better without them. (Leadville News Reporter.

A Dry May.

Thus far the rainfall has been below the normal for the year, but the rain which fell yesterday will help growing crops and grass upon the plains very materially. Ordinarily May is the wettest month, but this year it has been as dry as July. (Denver Republican.

A Democratic Investigation.

It will be a wise decision as well as a clever political move if, as foreshadowed in our Washington dispatches this morning, the Republican members of the Senate finance committee allow the bond sale investigation authorized by the Senate to be made by Democrats. The movement for the investigation was not started by Republicans, but by Mr. Peffer, the Kansas Populist, and only six Cuckoo Senators, including Mr. Hill, who must now be placed in that category, opposed its passage. A report by Republicans censuring the President and Secretary Carlisle would be denounced as nothing but campaign literature, and would lose much of the weight which would otherwise attach to it. By all means let the Democrats do the investigating of their own administration.—(N. Y. Tribune.

Distressing.

Genial old Izaak Walton himself had not a keener fisherman's instinct than was possessed by old Zimri Skillings, who flourished in a western state a good many years ago.

One day Zimri took his rod and line and "worms," as he called them, and started off for a four days' fishing trip.

He had been gone but one day when his poor old wife died unexpectedly, and a neighbor hastened off in pursuit of Zimri.

He was found silently but profoundly happy, with his line cast in the Cinnamon river. He turned pale and was at first speechless when told of his loss.

"It's too bad, Zimri," said the sympathetic neighbor, whereupon Zimri found voice enough to say:

"Wal, I should say so, with the pick'rel bitin' ez I ain't seen 'em bite fer a year!" and he gulped down another sob.—Detroit Free Press.

The Motive.

"Why have you pursued me all these years?" wearily demanded the princess of the drama.

"I don't know," answered the wily miscreant, "unless it was to give you a chance to wear all your costumes."

Drawing his mantle more closely about him, he nodded to the leader of the orchestra.—Detroit Tribune.

A PLACE WORTH SEEING.

People Should Take a Look at the New Tracks.

FAST HORSES IN TRAINING.

Over One Hundred Stalls Full of Thoroughbreds—Everything at the Track is Being Put In, in the Most Substantial Manner.

Yesterday a representative of The Gazette visited Roswell and inspected the tracks and buildings of the El Paso County Horse and Bicycle association. Citizens who have not been out that way and who do not fully appreciate what is done there should ride out and take a look at the place. There are now a hundred fast horses or more stabled there in training for the spring races. It is an interesting sight to watch the keepers and trainers putting them through their work. The horse track is in excellent shape and every morning the horses are worked. There is a small army of men and boys employed about the stables who are constantly rubbing, walking and driving the horses. There are only a hundred box stalls in the horse shed now, but every one is occupied and as many more could be used if they were only ready. Many of the blooded horses are owned by Colorado Springs people. They will open the racing season here and then start over the various circuits. Among the fine horses quartered at the track are five or six trotters controlled by F. A. Muler, eight controlled by the John Denman Horse company, and managed by George Hopkins. Owen Deary of Leadville has seven head owned by Mr. Reynolds of the same city. D. Swearinger of Leadville has two head and Mr. McGinnis of this city four or five head. Among these are some very speedy harness horses. Among the running stock there are five head controlled by P. S. Halleck of Salida. Mr. Lewis of Walsenburg has one horse at the track, Fred Beard of this city has three head, Lou Pittamore has two head, Mr. Montgomery has four head, William Steel, two head, C. B. Irwin one. It is a pretty sight to see the running horses in training.

Preparations are going forward as rapidly as possible to get everything in shape for the race meet which begins May 25. Everything is being done in the most substantial manner. The grand stand is now rapidly nearly completion. It is a most imposing structure the finest of its kind in the West. It commands a fine view of both the horse and bicycle tracks. In the lower part in the rear are large quarters for dining rooms and refreshment stands, which this year will be in charge of Thomas Gough, the well-known local caterer. In the north end of the building will be a large dressing room for the bicycle riders.

The bicycle track will be completed in a very few days. It is a sight in itself on account of the angle at which it is constructed. Wheelmen who have inspected it say that it will be the fastest track in Colorado. Around the upper edge of it, a line of water pipe is carried for the purpose of wetting the track. Undoubtedly some very big records will be made there. Before the end of the season some of the fastest men in the country will have the opportunity of testing it. The track is a third of a mile around and built inside of the horse track.

Yesterday work was commenced on the erection of the fences around the tracks. The intention at first was not to put a fence on the bluffs, but it was found that so many people would take advantage of the association by occupying the high lands that it has been necessary to put up a fence. It is always necessary to get down into the bottoms to get the proper soil for a horse track.

Undoubtedly the race meet will bring a great many people to Colorado Springs. It is being advertised very extensively throughout the country. The advertising committee is sending posters and advertising to every railroad station in the State. A great many people throughout Colorado like to have an excuse to visit Colorado Springs and with the cheap railroad rates which will prevail during the meet we shall certainly have a large crowd here. It will be a class of people who will spend their money generously and will benefit the town. The hotel people of the city can well afford to give the association every encouragement possible. In fact, the association will be the means of distributing a great deal of money here. The feed and keep of the horses and men that will be brought here is in itself no small item. The association has already spent a large sum of money and is now entitled to all the encouragement and assistance that can be given it. There is little doubt but that the stock of the association will be very valuable in a short time. With its land and buildings it already represents more than $35,000, the sum for which it is capitalized. The city can well afford to maintain such a pleasure resort for the benefit of the thousands of strangers who come here every summer.

A boarding house is now being constructed back of the grand stand for the use of those employed at the track. It is hoped that the contract for the club house which is to be built can be let about the first of June. For years past attempts have been made to secure such a place as we now have. It has been accomplished now in the right way, and is something to be proud of. Let the citizens give it their fullest support, not only by patronizing the entertainments but by taking stock. If the association is to be kept in the hands of men who will not permit abuses to creep in, then they must be encouraged. It is in the hands of such men as E. R. Stark, J. W. Miller, L. R. Ehrich, W. S. Stratton, J. E. Hundley and others, and should remain there.

C. S. Libby's Death.

Hon. C. S. Libby died at his home in Buena Vista Tuesday of typhoid fever. Mr. Libby was formerly the district attorney for the Fourth district. He was one or two terms in the Legislature and four years ago was the Republican candidate for Attorney General when the entire Republican ticket went down in the wave of Populism. A year ago Mr. Libby came to this city and formed a partnership with Herman M. Campbell, and has since held offices here and in Cripple Creek. Mr. Libby took the Cripple Creek office in charge. The funeral is to be held at Buena Vista today and the remains will be taken to Maine for burial.

A Funny Show.

At the opera house on Friday night Frank Kendall, in the familiar figure of "Jiles Burton," the old countryman, promises to keep the audience in a continual roar from the time he is exceedingly funny make-up shows itself until the curtain closes in the last act. People laugh because they cannot help it, everything is so extremely funny. "A Pair of Kids" is a play which does not grow old, and a person can laugh as heartily at its ludicrous situation now as when it first came out ten years ago. The company is a strong one and the musical and dancing specialties new and attractive.

Miss Jerry.

When the curtain rolls up next Monday night at the Coliseum a pleasant surprise will be in readiness for the audience in the opening feature of the new picture play by Alexander Black, Esq., entitled "Miss Jerry." As this is the first picture play ever written, the entire performance will naturally be in the nature of a surprise. Nothing like it has ever been produced. Mr. Black spent nearly two years in its production and has left nothing undone to make the presentation perfect. The story of Miss Jerry is one that appeals to the heart. The heroine enlists the sympathy of the audience from the moment she declares that she will go forth and battle with the world to earn a living for herself and her father (who has been reduced to penury through the duplicity of his partners in a Colorado mine) and her efforts are followed with unabated interest throughout the entire performance. "Miss Jerry" (Geraldine) tries her hand at journalism, and by a happy accident secures what in newspaper parlance is known as a "scoop." This brings her to the attention of the city editor, a handsome and manly young fellow, who promptly proceeds to fall in love with her and finally wins her heart and hand. His successful efforts to regain her father's lost property form a happy denouement to the play.

DISTRICT COURT.

Both Divisions Were at Work Again Yesterday.

In the first division of the District Court yesterday the day was largely occupied in the trial of George Shuly, charged with having gambling devices in his possession. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty, evidently believing that Shuly was a victim of the spite of other gambling house keepers at Cripple Creek. It seems that at one time he was charged with burning the court house at Newton, Kan., where he had a set of abstract books. He was first arrested at Cripple Creek for that, but it was found that he had settled that matter up. Then he was arrested for carrying concealed weapons, and later for gambling.

The case of Charles J. Holand was set for trial on June 4.

People vs. Goodwin, set for trial June 2.

People vs. Frank Lyle, petit larceny, sent to the county jail for thirty days.

Second Division.

In the second division yesterday the case of Wattson vs. Shepherd was on trial. It is a suit for $7,200 commission on the sale of the Plymouth Rock stock, at the time that Roudebush took an option for D. H. Moffatt. The trial was quite lively yesterday afternoon, Mr. Roudebush being on the stand. J. Stanley Jones of Cripple Creek and Col. Rhott are for the plaintiff and Chas. S. Thomas and Mr. O. H. Wilcox for the defendant. The attorneys of Mr. Stratton, who was the one who finally got hold of the property, were also present, as interested spectators. The case has not yet been concluded.

Salida Handicap Road Race.

The wheelmen of Salida have fixed upon May 30 as the date for a grand handicap road race. The event is open to the State and a large number of wheelmen, especially from the smaller cities and towns, are expected to enter.

For first and second time prizes handsome medals which will cost to manufacture $35 and $25 respectively have been donated by two local jewelry firms. They will be entirely of home manufacture, handsomely jeweled, and are given as an advertisement of what their donors are able to do in this line.

A large purse of money has been subscribed, to be used in purchasing goal prizes. In order to avoid the usual claim of fictitious values the money will be deposited in the bank. A purchasing committee will accompany the winner and buy whatever article he may select. Not less than $50 will be set apart for the first prize.

A feature of the day will be a grand bicycle parade in which all local and visiting wheelmen will participate. As the event occurs on the same day on which the Syndicate shows visit Salida an unusually pleasant day is anticipated.

Reduced railroad rates will be secured, and as the entry fee has been placed at the very low figure of 50 cents, some of our local wheelmen will be very likely to participate.

The course is four miles up grade and eight miles down grade or level, finishing on a paved street.

Mr. Dawson has some entry blanks, which were sent him for distribution.

THE MAKING OF PENS.

More Steel Used For Pens Than For Guns, Swords and Needles.

"Do you know anything about pens?" asked a Nassau street stationer the other morning. "I thought you didn't. Now, let me tell you something about the metallic pen that you never dreamed of. It requires the finest kind of steel to make a really first class pen. I have been overhauling records and find that a greater quantity of steel is used annually in the penmaking business than in all the gun, sword and needle manufactories of the world. The recent popularity of the typewriter has, of course, diminished the use of pens, but the output is enormous nevertheless.

"In Birmingham, England, there are a number of pen manufactories that turn out a total of 150,000,000 pens every working week. The majority of the workers are women, and the wages, while low, help to make Birmingham a notable seat of industry. To make 1,000,000 pens a full ton of steel is required. There is really so much work about the manufacture of a pen that it is surprising that they sell as cheap as they do, but, as I have said, the production is so great that it is a profitable business. Pens have been in use a whole century now, but 40 years ago, when they took the place of quills as the popular ink spreader, it was one of the secrets of the age how that slit was made in the pen. Those employed in that particular branch of the work were obliged to record an oath that they would not reveal the secret of that slit cutting process.

"The secret became an open one, though, in the natural course of events, and soon almost every interested person knew that the slit was made with a pair of scissors fixed in a press. Men perform the initial work on a pen. That is to say, they roll out the steel to the proper thickness. The women then take hold, cutting the steel into strips as wide as two pens are long. Presses do the cutting for the women. The steel when it leaves the presses is shaped like a pen, but is flat. The forms made by these presses are then put into a red hot furnace, and when thoroughly heated are taken out and permitted to cool slowly. This process makes them soft. Then the women use fast presses that hammer the points as well as stamp the name of the manufacturer.

"This done, the pens are heated again, and, while still hot, are cast into oil. They are much harder, but dirty and greasy when taken out. To clean and whiten they they are then boiled in water to which soda has been added. The next step is to place them in a cylinder which revolves over gas jets. This turns them blue. A number of other minor details, and the pen is packed and ready for the market. Whether it be the rich or the poor man's pen, the mode of manufacture is alike." New York Mail and Express.

Mad as a March Hare.

"As mad as a March hare" has been explained in two ways. According to one, the expression is a corruption of marsh hare, since in marshy districts the hares have less protection and are wilder than in forests. According to the other, March is the rutting season of the hares, and they are then wilder and more restless than at any other time.

AS PUBLISHED IN MADRID.

Havana Dispatches to The Imparcial On Cuban Affairs.

Madrid, May 13.—A dispatch from Havana to the Imparcial, says that the government troops in Cuba are being reorganized, but that none of them can be spared to conduct operations against the rebels in the interior of the province of Pinar Del Rio, because of the risk that the towns will be burned by the insurgents if the garrisons are withdrawn. Twenty additional battalions of reenforcements for the Spaniards are urgently needed.

The dispatch further says the volunteers now in the field are absolutely useless. The fact that many expeditions in aid of the Cubans were successful in landing in Cuba during the month of April is supressed by the government. The insurgents are well supplied with munitions of war.

In a recent interview with a press representative, the dispatch adds, Captain General Weyler was very reserved in his xpressions, but from what he did say, the reporter gathered that he regretted that he had not shot the Competitor prisoners, especially the Cubans, for indulging in derisive remarks in the presence of the Court before which they were arraigned.

The suggestion recently made by the Imparcial that the treaties between the Spanish and the United States governments made in 1795 and 1877 be denounced is much discussed in political and military circles. The suggestion meets with general approval on the part of the Spanish press.

The Spanish admiral in command in Cuba has sent the case of the filibustering schooner Competitor to the Naval Court here with a view of having the vessel declared a lawful prize.

VENEZUELA COMMISSION.

First Meeting in Three Weeks Adjourned Without Action.

Washington, May 13.—The Venezuelan commission held a meeting today for the first time in three weeks, all the members being present, except Justice Brewer, who has gone to San Antonio, Texas, to attend the funeral of his daughter.

Resolutions of condolance were telegraphed to Justice Brewer, and the meeting adjourned as a mark of respect.

Prof. Jameson of Brown University, the historical expert, whose employment was authorized at the preceding meeting, was present at the session and created a favorable impression. Marcus Baker, cosmographical expert of the United States Geological Survey, who has been assisting the commission since January, has been formally detailed by the Secretary of the Interior to perfect the maps of the disputed territory and to collect upon copies of the commission's base map, all the geographical and historical information thus far accumulated by the commission.

The long-promised Venezuelan evidence has not yet materialized.

Ready for the Jury.

CAPTURED A SHARK.

And Found In Its Capacious Maw a Paper Addressed to Him.

"One afternoon, when we were in the Indian ocean," said the captain, "I noticed a shark swimming round the ship, and I didn't like it a bit. You know the superstition to the effect that a following shark presages the death of one of the ship's company. He sailed round us all the next day and the next after that, and I determined to catch him and quell my uneasiness. We baited a hook and after a short time captured and killed him. Then we cut him up. Do you know what we found in that shark's inside? Not Well, a newspaper unopened, and it will surprise you, as it did me, when I tell you that it was addressed to me."

A shout of great laughter went up from the captain's audience, who winked at each other unblushingly. He, however, took all the bantering in good part, and when the jeers were ended he said:

"Now, gentlemen, I'll tell you how it happened. I found that my children had been skylarking the day before in the cabin. They found among the mass of reading that had been brought aboard some unopened newspapers addressed to me. They had been throwing these newspapers at each other, and one of them went out of the porthole. The shark saw it, of course, and gobbled it down, and that was how it happened. Now, gentlemen, judge for yourselves the truth of my story." London Answers.

Powdered Fluor Spar Helps X Rays.

Professor Winkelmann and Dr. Straubel of the University of Jena have succeeded in discovering a new method of photographing with Roentgen rays by which the length of exposure is reduced from 10 to 15 minutes to only a few seconds. The method is based on a conversion of the X rays into rays of other undulations by means of fluor spar crystal. If the Roentgen rays are allowed to fall upon a photographic plate, the sensitized film of which is turned away from them and covered with fluor spar, the rays, after passing the film, will be absorbed by the fluor spar and there undergo the modification spoken of. The new rays now act upon the photographic plate, and indeed much more strongly than did the Roentgen rays on passing through. As large fluor spar plates are to be had with difficulty powder of the same crystal was tried in their place, and as this succeeded nothing stands in the way of the further application of the method. The new rays emitted by the fluor spar were minutely examined by the discoverers. They succeeded in determining the frangibility, and from this the length of the undulations. The rays lie far beyond the ultra violet end of the visible spectrum.—London News.

Mrs. Chanetta Dewey.

"It would seem," says the Boston Traveller, "as if the bench of Massachusetts had fairly reveled in Deweys, for no less than four of the same name have sat at one time or another either on the supreme or superior court bench since 1814. The first one was Daniel Dewey, who held office for a year on the supreme court bench. Then came Charles Augustus Dewey, appointed in 1837, dying in office in 1866. Francis Henshaw Dewey was appointed to the superior court in 1869 and resigned in 1881, and Justin Dewey, now on the same bench, was appointed in 1886. There are, therefore, today two Judge Deweys in this commonwealth."

Afraid of Burglars.

That singular woman, Miss Middy Morgan, who for 20 years wrote the best reports of the cattle market printed by the New York papers, while not afraid of vicious cows or even of that terror of womankind, a bull, was martially afraid of burglars. In the little house where she and her sister lived, on Staten Island, there were no stairs to the second story, but a ladder which the two women pulled up after them when they went to bed.

Miss Morgan confided to a friend of the writer that she kept several cannon balls near her bed in readiness to drop on the head of a burglar bold enough to break in below. Philadelphia Press.

How to Treat a Wife.

(From Pacific Health Journal.)

First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom. To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health.

Mines, Stocks, Investments

Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association.

Colorado Springs, May 13.—The advance made during the past few days was well maintained at the call this morning. The market opened strong and as far as the listed stocks were concerned, remained so throughout the morning, some scoring even further advances on heavy demand. Isabella was again the greatest favorite with the traders. The initial transfer was made at 57, the ruling price at yesterday's close. It then went by fractions to 58 and 58½, the latter figure being obtained for the last eight and final sales. The total amount of Isabella sold was 16,100 shares. Union was strong and opened at 47½, above yesterday's last sale, and the third at 48, when a loss of ½ was sustained for the remaining sales. Argentum Juniata, Work and Cripple Creek remained firm at unchanged prices. Phaymacist, Oriole and Bob Lee were good sellers, the last named showing more strength than for some time. The unlisted stocks were inactive, few being dealt in and no changes of note taking place. Arcadia was a little firmer while Ironclad was somewhat weaker. The general market closed firm.

Cyanide at Leadville.

Leadville, May 12.—A visit to the old Chrysolite mill site near the American smelter reveals the fact that the people who have leased the cyanide process from the MacArthur-Forres; combination have brought the process to Leadville to remain. Machinery is being placed in position, and all arrangements are being made to operate them in a thoroughly systematic manner.

Too much importance cannot be placed upon the introduction of this cyanide process into this camp, especially so since it is backed here by such men as Page, Campion, Noble and Mitchell, men who have the means as well as the determination to carry ahead their plans. It means that these men are satisfied that the tremendous reserves of low grade silver and gold ores can be treated at a profit by this process, in this camp, just as successfully as at Cripple Creek, Victor, Mercur and other mining camps.

The gold and silver ore of the Ibex dump will first be handled by these people, and it is believed it will be with profitable results. If this proves successful, there will be no lack of material to work on. The amount of low grade silver at the Iron mine alone is said to amount to over $4,000,000. The plant will only be of 50 tons a day capacity, to start with, but if it proves an assured success, it can be easily enlarged and the cyanide process will become one of the greatest industries of the camp.

Fifth Isabella Dividend.

At a meeting of the directors of the Isabella company held Monday a dividend of 1 cent per share was declared payable on the 25th inst. to stockholders of record May 15th. The stock books will close on that day and reopen on the 25th. The amount to be distributed among the various holders of that stock is $7,500.

Mr. T. H. Edsall has been elected to succeed Count James Pourtales as director of the company. Count Pourtales has gone to Europe.

The declaring of this dividend was not generally known on account of the date of the regular monthly meeting of the directors being changed from the 15th to the 11th of each month.

Raven News.

For the week ending May 9th, the Raven company shipped from its own workings seventy tons of ore to the Gillett production works.

The old lease on the Snowy Range expired a few days ago, and a new lease was granted to Messrs. German and Crook, who are operating the same vein in the Wide Awake, an adjoining property on the east. The royalties on the new lease range between 15 and 20 per cent. The shaft on the Snowy Range has a depth of 140 feet and it is quite probable that a plant of machinery will soon be placed on the ground.

Moon-Anchor Notes.

The Moon-Anchor company yesterday shipped four cars of medium grade ore to the smelter at Pueblo.

The company has just received returns from the shipment which was sent to Pueblo last week. It consisted of two consignments, and returned a total value of between $1200 and $1300.

Maica Leases Expire.

Between eight and ten leases and subleases on the Maica properties, the Half Moon, and Harlan H., on Gold hill, expired through limitation yesterday. The company will reserve such portions of the ground as it considers most valuable and re-lease other sections on condition that deep mining is hereafter performed. Deep mining means machinery, and this is what the company wants. Each new lease will call for at least 5 feet of shafting per month. Two of the new leases granted have already contracted for machinery, and others will follow suit. The Jackson lease, which has produced some high-grade ore in the past, is putting up a new plant. All the royalties are straight twenty per cent.

Greater Gold Belt Company.

At a meeting yesterday of the Greater Gold Belt company, Messrs. Bennett & Chaplin of this city were appointed agents for the sale of real estate of that company at High Park in the Cripple Creek district. The company will open up an office at High Park and also one at Cripple Creek. A stage line will be started up Monday to run between Cripple Creek and High Park.

New Machinery.

A new plant of machinery has been ordered for the Highland Chief, belonging to the Mayflower company, and a new plant will also be put on the Red Umbrella claim of the Red Umbrella company. The latter is only a fractional claim north of the Moose, but is large enough to contain an ore chute from which mineral has been shipped running between 21 and 29 ounces gold per ton.

Another Shipment.

The Alpha Consolidated company has just received returns from another car of silver ore from Creede. It went 26 ounces per ton. The shipment went to the smelter at Pueblo. The company expect to begin shipping from three to four cars per week of ore running from 25 to 45 ounces of silver to the ton. A large amount of this grade of ore is in sight.

PRODUCTION INCREASING.

At Lake City Shipments Average $800 per Day.

Lake City, Colo., May 11.—The mining outlook for Lake City at the present time is much better than it has been at any time during the past five years. It is true that during the summer of 1895 there was considerable work being done, but the actual tonnage shipments did not equal by 50 per cent those of 1894 to-day. The Ute and Ulay and St. Jacobs were the principal shippers at that time, with an occasional car from other sources. From five to ten cars of ore per day is now the output of Lake City. In the summer of 1895 came the "slump" in silver, and with it came the closing down of both the Ute and Ulay and the St. Jacobs at Carson. The following winter things were pretty quiet about the camp, nothing being done except on the Black Wonder and Golden Fleece. During the summer of 1895 the Fleece people commenced increasing their force, and quite a number of men were employed on the Sherman property. Last fall and winter the outlook was brighter and more work was done than for several previous summers, and to-day there is every reason to believe that the total output for 1896 will more than equal that of all previous years put together.

Carson and Capitol City will be busy camps this season, while Burrows Park and Sherman will produce more ore than ever before. Close to town the number of men employed on properties, aside from the Ute and Ulay, will equal the total number at work during the summer of 1895 in the county.

The work of putting in the Hartwig mill at Capitol City is progressing very rapidly. The new machinery is almost all in place, the flume has been put in good repair, water turned on and every wheel in the mill has been turned. Some necessary changes are now being made, and in a few days more the mill will be ready to grind out concentrates. They expect to do custom work, besides treating the ore from one or two claims of their own. Three four-mule teams are now kept busy hauling machinery and other necessary articles needed in starting the plant. Mr. A. J. McCorkle, who has charge of the work, is now in Denver, making some necessary arrangements for starting, and as soon as he returns work will commence.

One of the best properties in the county to-day is the Clara L., owned by William Laughton and W. M. Fuller. The mine is located on the east side of the lower end of Lake San Christoval, in the edge of Slumgullion, and only lacks the hand of capital to put it in shape to make it a regular shipper. Ore may be seen in the tunnel for a distance of 200 feet, and it is shipping ore, too.

The Silver Fleece people, N. J. Krusen, manager, are putting in a whim, boiler and engine on their property. They have a big vein of conglomerate, in which are small bowlders of steel galena and silver ore, assays of which gave 200 ounces silver and 50 per cent lead. They will commence shipping soon.

One car of ore was shipped from the Contention this week and another will probably be shipped next week. The cross-cut now being run is in about 150 feet, and they are still driving at the rate of about five feet per day. The vein will be cut about 200 feet below the present workings of the Contention, and although good ore is now in sight in the upper workings, a much better grade is expected in the new tunnel.

The Earl and Duke, located on Hotchkiss mountain, were sold a short time ago. The owners of the above properties were Trinidad people, and W. H. Sammons of this place, and the sale was made by Daniel Kirby to an English syndicate, Charles Greeswell, agent for the English owners of the Ute and Ulay, being at the head. The sale is a very fortunate one for Lake City, as there is already $10,000 appropriated for development work on the properties. Mr. Greeswell came in on Friday, and Saturday the deal was closed. This virtually means that there will be another Golden Fleece established on Hotchkiss mountain, and a number of men will be employed developing the same. Hotchkiss mountain is a rich field to work on, but it takes capital and deep mining, and we are informed that this company has means sufficient for going down and opening up as a property as was ever shown in Hinsdale county. We understand work is to be commenced in a short time.

ADVANCE AT CREEDE.

The Molly S. Develops High Grade Ore Carrying Silver.

Creede, Colo., May 12.—Campbell mountain, [illegible] and to Bachelor mountain, but Mammoth mountain is pushing her very close, and if the present indications hold good so far as the new developments on the Molly S. and Molly S. No. 2 are concerned Mammoth will rank first as Creede's producer. A large amount of very rich ore has been found near the surface on the Molly S. which is estimated at eight to ten tons in sight which will net $1,000, that many thousand dollars; and it is the opinion of the lessees that it will hold out as well as it has started in. The ore has been shown to assay from one to five hundred ounces of silver to the ton, and is being shipped. Up to the past few days it has been conveyed from the mine to the cars by burro trains, but the lessees are now building a tramway for that purpose. The discovery of such ore in the Molly S. testifies to the fact that the few great producers on Bachelor mountain are not the only hidden treasures of this camp, which has been witnessed by the opening up of the Solomon on Campbell and the Commodore on the lower end of Bachelor mountain and the Alpha on Sunny Side, and it is the opinion of mining men that the Chloride on Mammoth and the Holy Moses on Campbell will soon be numbered among the producers, as the latter has only 600 feet more to drive before it cuts the Holy Moses vein, and they are putting in valuable machinery, a power house and compressor plant in anticipation of its being a great producer as soon as the vein is encountered, which is based on the fact that very fair ore has been taken from the surface, and by an accurate survey a conclusion was reached that by driving 1100 feet on a line with the present tunnel it would cut the vein 750 feet below the surface and the first 500 to be driven by a hand process on account of the lack of room, but the balance by an air drill process which will enable them to drive much faster than the first part of the work, and for which purpose the compressor plant is being erected, the new wagon road having been completed as far as the site of the air compressor.

The electro-magnetic process, with which the Creede Milling and Leasing company have been experimenting for the past few days, has been found to be a winner for the purpose of saving values that have been a total loss heretofore on account of the jig process not being equal to the occasion, and if the recent saving test is any criterion, which is three ounces per ton of concentrates and a fraction over six ounces in silver and over 9 per cent lead, now being saved by one pair of the electro-magnetic machines, and with three pair more, which it would require to handle the full capacity of the jig mill, $60,000 would be a short estimate of the losses for the past year. In fact, the new process rates about equally as much as the production of the jig process. The miners who have worked in the Ridge mine and are acquainted with the Solomon ore say that the Ridge has been a greater loser by not being able to save all values than the Solomon, and a like process on both properties would make a difference in the output of the two mines of somewhere in the neighborhood of $200,000 alone, instead of being washed down Willow creek in the slimes, as in the past, and make low grade propositions, such as these properties, pay good dividends to the stockholders and give employment to a great number of men, which is beginning to be noticed by the numerous dwelling houses that are being erected by miners who have been working on the properties along West Willow creek.

It will not be long before great change in the right direction can be noticed on the lower end of Bachelor mountain, which will be the completion of the extensive power house and compressor plant of the Bachelor mine, now under good headway, and when completed will be the means of giving employment and increasing Creede's output.

The Alpha has just finished the erection of a power house and is sinking a shaft to cut its vein about 200 feet or more below the water level, which will be lower by far than ever reached in this district at any time.

A great number of Creede miners are sending supplies and outfits to Bear Creek, Sky City and Camp Creek, to develop and prospect those districts while the season lasts.

Current Notes.

A small streak of flourine, running $400, has been opened on the Longfellow.

The Independence is following a crosscut toward the northeastern boundary of its property.

The Blue Stocking mine, on Battle mountain, has been closed and its machinery removed.

The Vindicator is hoisting 12 wagon loads of ore per day for shipment, and it is high grade, too.

The Theresa, above Gold hill, is opening an upper shaft and will increase shipments from one to two cars of ore per month.

Mr. H. H. Dorsey, of the Dorsey Investment company, returned Tuesday night from a very successful business trip to Kansas City.

F. Rider and M. Martin Love disposed of their Straub fountain tunnel site to the Houston and Colorado company for a price stated to be $4,000 cash.

A shipment of 60 tons of milling ore was made from the Walsh and Lester lease on the Morning Glory to the Brodie mill to-day. The grade of the ore is about $25.

W. S. Coffman, a San Francisco capitalist, has a force of eight men at work in his tunnel in Big Bull hill. A vein yielding several good assays has been encountered.

The Black Diamond, a Big Bull hill property, which has been closed down for a season, begins again within the next two weeks with steam and machinery. Its shaft is down 125 feet.

Hicks & Spurgeon have finished a 50-foot shaft to the south end of the La Belle property on a contract and will now drift. Assays as high as $237 have been received from their lead.

A carload shipment was made from the Blue Jay, on Bull hill, to the Florence cyanide works on Saturday. The property is producing in a small way and a narrow streak on the foot wall gives occasional high assays.

The Chesapeake, on the east of Battle mountain, owned by Brandon Bros., showed a well-defined vein of low grade ore on its 100-foot level. The shaft is now 150 feet deep in good phonolite and porphyry rock and will go deeper.

A strike of sylvanite ore has been made in the Pessimist, on Ironclad hill, being worked by the Bullock Mining company. At a depth of 150 feet a good wide vein has been opened and the ore is apparently of pay grade although no assay test has yet been made.

Mr. J. S. Tucker, successor to Lindley and Fitzpatrick, has purchased the seat on the old exchange formerly held by Mr. Geo. E. Lindley, and will take the same as soon as the requisite ten days' formal notice of the application has been posted on the bulletin board at the exchange.

The Lincoln Boy company had trouble with their men to-day and discharged the entire working force, after giving them their due pay checks. A new force of men will be put on and the operation of the property continued. There is some ore showing in the workings and the outlook is good.

The Bill Nye prospect, just below the Midland Terminal, on the east slope of Battle mountain, has been purchased by T. J. Burke, of Denver, for $4,000. A new shaft has been driven 75 feet by the present [illegible] in connection with the Bill Nye is that the great humorist for whom it was named died on the day of the sale.

The Bankers company, which owns large territory on Bull hill, is now shipping some very rich ore. Returns have just been received from a large shipment from the Grouse claims running over 500 per ton. The company is also receiving rich returns from the Star of Bethlehem lode, the ore of which is running very heavy in gold as depth is attained. It is predicted that the Bankers will soon prove one of the very richest large mining companies of the Colorado district.

A fine strike has been made on the Lincoln, which is significant from the fact that one of the main shafts has been closed down for some time pending the arrival of machinery. A bucket has been freely used in keeping the water under control. A vein has been exposed which is fully five feet in width, about fifty feet east of the present workings. Men have been put to work on this, and about thirty sacks of ore that run better than $75 have been saved.

The Kittie M. lease of the Cripple Creek Gold Mining, Bonding and Leasing company gives promise of opening into a heavy shipper with slight development. The property lies to the north of the Mattie L. of the Jefferson company, and has the characteristics of the rich veins on Gold hill. The shaft is down 80 feet and an 18-inch pay streak ranges from $25 a ton up into the hundreds, while almost the entire ledge runs from $5 to $15. The company will at once put on a plant of machinery and sink to greater depth, intending to get under and mine the present pay streak.

A shipment of 12 tons of $80 ore was made from the Keystone, on Gold hill, to-day to the Cripple Creek sampler. Foreman and Smith have been working the property under $3,000 bonds and a 10 months' lease, and the firm has taken out fully $20,000 worth of ore as the work of four men. A chute was opened in one shot put into a drift run by a former lessee from the 75-foot station. The ore body is three feet in width and of good value. The same chute has been opened at the surface and the lessees are now working a prospecting the vein at a greater depth from the shaft of the former lessee. The outlook is that a new shipper of the first rank has been opened in the property.

Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange.

Colorado Springs, May 13.—The market at the Board this morning was fairly firm. More life was shown and trading better distributed than for some time. Some of the stocks were higher than yesterday. Union, the Isabella and Cripple Creek Consolidated were the principal features in the mine list. The first named was fully a cent higher at one time than yesterday's last bid. The stock figured for 2,850 shares at from 40 to 41¼ and closed strong. Isabella was bid for better figures and had sales of 500 at from 7¾ and 57¾, while 3,000 shares of Stump Isabella sold at from 6¾ to 6¾. Cripple Creek Consolidated was ¼ higher than yesterday and appeared in the totals for 1,000 shares. Anaconda and Bankers were noted at better figures. Garfield Grouse was unchanged. In the prospective mine list Fanny Rawlings and Gould were slightly higher in price. Flower of the West came in for sales of 500 shares at unchanged prices. In the prospects Pinon, the Golden Treasure and Sylvanite were the easy traders. The market closed steady.

Around Woodland Park.

The latest news from the strike in the field tunnel in Woodland Park gives promise that this will be the most important strike made in the camp, says the Woodland Park Gazette. A visitor to the tunnel yesterday informs the Gazette that the vein is four feet wide, running across the entire width.

J. L. Murray has several very promising claims which are showing up in fine shape. He has had several mill runs made and is very well satisfied with the result.

The American Eagle Gold Mining company are pushing work on their property, the shaft having reached a considerable depth and showing a body of well mineralized quartz.

Superintendent George Bricker of the Butcher Boy M. & M. Co., about the completing arrangements for the letting of a contract to sink the Butcher Boy another 100 feet. The assays at present are $30 and as soon as the contract is completed and . . . Bricker will drift and expects to put out shipping ore.

Gold Coin.

The Gold Coin company, which is operating under bond and lease the Gold Coin lode, one of the most promising of the Mt. Ross company's Victor properties, have received an offer for all low grade ore on the Gold Coin dump. It is understood the price to be paid is at the rate of $7 per ton. The Gold Coin is located in the very heart of Victor townsite, and has produced considerable high grade ore. The property is improving daily and promises to be one of the big things around Victor. The bond falls due next September and calls for $5,000.

The Old Colony company's lease on the Gray Greenwood has almost a carload of ore on the ground lying beside the dump. Manager Ginlett, who has charge of the company's property, was caught without bins in which to store the ore and he is glad of it. When the shaft was started a short time ago it was not thought by anyone who examined the property that a shipping mine would be developed before considerable depth had been attained and the manager paid no attention to the fitting up of buildings, but rushed the work of sinking with all possible speed. The shaft was started on a strong vein and was sunk to a depth of seventy feet without any change sufficient to attract attention. But at that depth a noticeable change took place, and specks of sylvanite began to make their appearance. Assays were made but the result was not given to the public. This was a few days ago and since that time every bucket full of rock that has come out of the shaft has been dumped on a special pile. In the meantime a plant of machinery has been ordered and preparations made to put up necessary buildings. The shaft is being thoroughly timbered from top to bottom. The first shipment from the lease will be made in a few days.

EASTERN MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, May 13.—Money on call easy at 2½@3 per cent, closing at 3 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 5@6 per cent. Bar silver 68¾. Mexican dollars 53¾@54½. Sterling exchange easier with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87½@4.87¾ for 60 days and $4.88@4.88¼ for demand. Posted rates $4.88½@4.89½. Commercial bills $4.86½@4.87¼. Government bonds steady. State bonds dull. Railroad bonds firm. Silver at the board was quiet.

Trading at the stock exchange was characterized by firmness from start to finish and a higher range of prices obtained. London bought moderately of its favorites on the belief that all danger of trouble between the United States and Spain growing out of the Competitor incident had passed away. Foreign bankers also received intimations that there will be favorable developments in Transvaal matters shortly. Local operators were inclined to go slow because of the engagement of $1,500,000 gold for shipment to-morrow and the belief that at least 2,-000,000 more will be forwarded on Saturday.

A good deal was said again to-day about the continued silence of Mr. McKinley on the currency question and this undoubtedly has deterred operators from making new ventures. The declaration of the usual dividend by the Chicago Burlington and Quincy had a stimulating influence on the Grangers, which improved fractionally. The advances in prices ranged from ¼ to 2½, the Internationals, Grangers and Industrials leading. Sugar was bought on rumors of an early advance in refined and Leather preferred was taken on reports that the directors contemplate the payment of a dividend shortly. The dealings during the last hour of business was attended with more animation than any previous time of the day. Speculation closed strong in tone. Net changes show gains of anywhere from ¼ to 1¾, L. & N. leading. The total sales were 96,950 shares.

Bonds were dull and firm in tone. Hocking Valley gen. 6s rose ¾ to 89½, Omaha consol 6s 1 to 128 and Denver & Gulf consol 5s, ½ to 38½. Sales aggregated $662,000.

In government bonds $5,000 coupon 4s of 1925 sold at 117 and $10,000 regular 4s of 1970 at 109.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, May 13.—The strength and buoyancy which attended yesterday's trade in wheat was absent from the market this morning. English markets reflected the stronger feeling in so far as appreciating in price was concerned, although their tone was reported firm. Liverpool's failure to advance was one of the weakening points of this market today. Rains and showers for growing wheat and predictions by the weather bureau of additional moisture likewise tended to disappoint holders. The declaring of about 500,000 bushels of wheat contained in Armour's elevators irregular by the board of trade caused some short covering, which afforded the market partial support. Receipts at Chicago were 14 cars and 7,319 bushels were withdrawn from store. The Northwest had 362 cars against 228 last Wednesday and 187 a year ago. Export clearances were fair at 282,617 bushels. Closing Paris cables were 10 to 20 centimes higher for flour and 5 to 15 centimes higher for wheat. Antwerp was unchanged and Berlin ¼ mark higher. The market continued weak up to the close, which was ⅝ under yesterday for July. Estimated receipts for to-morrow eight cars.

The tone of the corn market at the opening was firm but the strength was not enduring, the easier tone of wheat eventually exercising influence of sufficient potency to cause prices to decline. Receipts were 110 cars, 5 less than expected and 65,776 bushels were taken from store. Liverpool cables were quiet. Export clearances amounted to 443,213 bushels. July corn opened from 30⅛@30¼, declined to 29⅞@29⅞, closing at 29⅞—30⅛ under yesterday. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 185 cars.

Oats had a very good trade to-day, the undertone of firmness of yesterday being still in evidence. The exports of oats are having an effect on the market, short sellers displaying less confidence while they keep up. Receipts were 111 cars. Withdrawals from store were 500 at 131,511 bushels. July oats closed ¼ under yesterday. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 110 cars.

Weather Indications

Washington, May 13.—For Colorado, local showers followed by fair weather northerly winds, cool but slowly rising temperature.

The Joe Wright is all right.

The Elks will meet this evening in regular session.

S. F. Pollock left yesterday for a trip to England.

Mrs. Charles Howbert left last evening on the Rock Island for the East.

The court house was almost deserted yesterday as everybody had gone to the convention.

Yesterday was a most peculiar day. It was a grand mixture of sunshine, clouds, rain and snow.

The annual gathering of the Colorado Sportsmen's association will be held in this city next week.

The meeting of the Ladies' Spiritual[illegible] club is postponed to one week week from to-day, May 21.

There will be a special meeting of Company H to-night at their armory, 115 North Tejon street, at 8 o'clock.

An old soldier from Victor named D. Moore died in his city yesterday and will be buried from Hall & Baker[illegible] at 2 o'clock to-day.

Justice Walker has bound Harvey King, a colored man who threatened to kill his wife, over to the district court. His bond was fixed at $[illegible].

The W. C. T. U. will hold a mothers' meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First M. E. church. An interesting program will be given.

Pikes Peak Lodge No. 38, I. O. O. F., will add seven new members to their order to-night. Visiting brethren in the city are invited to be present.

Mr. E. A. Sawyer has received a patent to his land claim in the Pike's Peak park. He took up 160 acres of land some years ago near Lake Moraine.

Weather permitting there will be fun at the ball grounds today. The colored boys from the Antlers will play the Colorado Springs team and play to win. The game will start about 3 o'clock.

Mr. J. F. Ryan of Columbus, O., has arrived in the city and will make a tour of the camps. He is being shown the sights by Mr. Harry Newman and other friends.

Coroner Marlow has returned from Victor, where he investigated the death of May Klein, a woman of the town who took the usual morphine route into eternity.

In the bulletin issue yesterday in Philadelphia by Chairman Gideon of the L. A. W. sanctions were granted to the El Paso County Horse and Bicycle association of this city to hold meets on May 30, June 1, 2, 3 and 4.

A special train on the Santa Fe carrying the Denver delegation to the Republican convention at Pueblo to-day will arrive at the Santa Fe depot at 10:45 this morning. This will be a very convenient train for delegates and others from here.

The Joe Wright is all right.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to James G. Britton of Lawrence, Kas., and Katie M. Bashan of this city, to George Poswell of Denver and Lily Peabody of Colorado Springs, to Frederick J. Gill and Julia Barres, both of Anaconda.

H. J. Sisty, who was arrested on a charge of passing a worthless check, was taken before Justice Walker yesterday. It was shown that Sisty had been a loser in the Cripple Creek fire and upon his arranging to make the check good the case was dismissed.

It is not too late perhaps to make recognition of the services of the Wells-Fargo express company during the late distress at Cripple Creek. The company did not take a cent from the relief committees for carrying goods to the sufferers. It carried five or six cars of freight, all toll into the camp and gave the committees every assistance possible.

At the Coliseum this evening occurs the benefit ball and supper for the Cripple Creek sufferers given by the ladies of Hermione temple. The Troop A band and the M. O. Barnes orchestra will play during the evening. There will be social games for those who do not care to dance. The admission is 25 cents, children free. Berries, ice cream and cake will be served.

A divorce suit was filed in the district court yesterday entitled Marie E. Frock vs. Edwin D. Frock. They were married in New Jersey in 1888 and have two children. Plaintiff alleges cruelty, and that on May 12th she was put out of the [illegible] property, a house on the west side this city, for $25 a week alimony pending the suit, and $50 attorney's fees. She also asks for the care of the children.

The Joe Wright is all right.

A large audience of the ladies of the various women's clubs of the city was present yesterday afternoon at Coburn library to hear the lecture by Mrs. Martha Strickland of Chicago. Mrs. Strickland's specialty is parliamentary law, which in this day, and especially in this state, where women are taking part in public affairs, and are so greatly interested in club life, is certainly pertinent. Mrs. Strickland demonstrated that she is an expert in the teaching of parliamentary law. Mrs. Strickland proposes to organize a class in this city, and next Monday morning at 11 o'clock at Mrs. Slocum's, will be pleased to meet all who desire to join. The rates are $10 for the term.

Village Improvement

The Village Improvement society holds a meeting Monday evening next, at the Coburn Library at 8 p. m., to which the women's clubs of the city are especially invited. President Slocum will make a few remarks upon the work of the society during the coming summer. The feature of the evening, however, will be a paper by Mrs. Grinnell on "Street Cleaning." This paper excited much interest when it was given before the Tuesday Club in April and is repeated by especial request.

Much valuable and amusing information has been collected as to the latest methods of street-cleaning now used in New York, Chicago, Denver and other cities large and small.

The Improvement society issues a cordial invitation not only to the women's clubs, but to all citizens, men and women, who are interested in the welfare of the town.
